EDITORIAL (or OLD CODGER RANT)

Hi welcome to the May's issue of The Old Codger, have you noticed how fast the year is moving? At least we have two bank holiday weekends this month, to relax and get out and about, so will the rain stay away this summer? It's also the month of local elections, which could see some changes from same old, same old politics. It would be nice to think that 2024 was a year of change, rather than this continued slide into more price rises, shortages, can't get a doctors appointment, strikes here, etc. etc. The word this month is POTHLES!! Our roads in this country have just got worse and worse (along with everything else!!). The summer may well up lift us all with some sunshine, so that we can enjoy our time off and relax? Again the gig guide this month is full of good music and events, also the time of year for the start of festivals, local Beer festivals and other events to help us relax and unwind. Don't forget to e-mail us your gig listings, it's FREE. Just email – info@oldcodgermag.co.uk copy date is the 12th of the month for the following months issue. So have a good May, look out for the POTHLES if your out and about, Oh and complain to the council - old Codger Bob
